2020 Scholastic Art & Writing Awards Region-at-Large: Submission Fee Payment Options for Educators

Notice about submission fees:

All submission fees for Region-at-Large programs must be submitted online via PayPal through the student or educator account, with the exception of bulk payments for multiple students submitted by an educator. An educator paying the submission fees for multiple students may either complete a bulk payment via PayPal through their educator account OR mail in a single check covering the submission fees for multiple students.

How can educators submit a check payment for multiple students?

1. Print a list of all students whose submission fees will be covered by the payment. If you are submitting payment for both art and writing submissions, you should submit two lists: one for art submissions and one for writing submissions. Each list should include the school name, the student name (first and last) as it appears on their submission form, the student grade, the student email username for their Scholastic Awards account, and the number of submissions (individual and portfolio) being paid for each student. Use the below templates to ensure accuracy. A single list should contain only art or writing submissions, although the check may cover the fees for both art and writing submissions.
