About Best Teen Art 2021

Best Teen Art 2021 features selected National Medal-winning work from the 2021 Scholastic Art & Writing Awards. Since 1923, the Awards have identified teenagers with exceptional artistic and literary talent. The program, presented by the Alliance for Young Artists & Writers, celebrates these young artists and writers with opportunities for recognition, exhibition, publication, and scholarships.

This year, while the world was being upended by Covid-19 and our country reckoned with calls for social and racial justice, nearly 1,300 works received National Medals in art categories. The selections for this publication represent the broad range of work that received National Medals from the perspective of grade, geography, genre, and subject matter. They also present a spectrum of the insight and creative intellect that inform many of the submitted pieces.

Visit artandwriting.org to view online galleries of all nationally awarded works of art and writing. There you can also learn how to enter the 2022 Awards and find ways you can partner with the Alliance to support young artists and writers in your community.

About the Scholastic Art & Writing Awards

Since 1923, the Scholastic Art & Writing Awards have recognized the vision, ingenuity, and talent of our nation's youth and provided opportunities for creative teens to be celebrated. Each year, thousands of teens participate in the program and become a part of our community—young artists and writers, filmmakers and photographers, poets and sculptors, illustrators and science fiction writers—along with countless educators who support and encourage the creative process. Notable Awards alumni include Tschabalala Self, Stephen King, Kay WalkingStick, Charles White, Joyce Carol Oates, and Andy Warhol—to name just a few.

Our Mission

The Scholastic Art & Writing Awards are presented by the Alliance for Young Artists & Writers. The Alliance is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization whose mission is to identify students with exceptional artistic and literary talent and present their remarkable work to the world through the Awards. The Awards give students opportunities for recognition, exhibition, publication, and scholarships. During our 2021 program year, students across America submitted nearly 230,000 original works across 28 different categories of art and writing.

Our Programs

Through the Awards, teens in grades 7–12 from public, private, or home schools can submit pieces in 28 categories of art and writing for a chance to earn recognition and scholarships, and to have their works exhibited and published. Beyond the Awards, the Alliance produces a number of programs to support creative students and their educators, including the Art.Write.Now.Tour, the National Student Poets Program, the Scholastic Awards Summer Workshops and Scholastic Awards Summer Scholarships programs, the GOLDEN Educators Residency, the Writers Retreat for Educators, and many more. The Alliance features artworks by National Medalists who received our top awards in Best Teen Art. Additionally, we publish a collection of exemplary written works in our anthology, Best Teen Writing, and a chapbook that features works from the National Student Poets. These publications are distributed free of charge to schools, students, educators, museums, libraries, and arts organizations across the country. The Alliance also supports its Awards alumni by providing career development and networking opportunities.

Foreword

This has been a year without precedent in the nearly 100-year history of the Scholastic Art & Writing Awards. We are honored to share this collection of artworks that have received National Medals in this year's Awards. This book celebrates the creative accomplishments of a group of exceptional teens who are part of a tradition that dates back to 1923—one focused on recognizing young people who represent the future of American art and letters. Now more than ever, the bold, unique visions celebrated through this program inspire us and give us hope.

On behalf of the entire Awards family, we congratulate all of this year's Medalists. We would also like to acknowledge the extraordinary educators and supportive family members who have helped to nurture the voices and visions expressed in this work.

Presented for more than a quarter century by the Alliance for Young Artists & Writers, the Awards have grown to become the country's largest, longest-running, and most prestigious recognition program for creative teens. This is possible only because of our dedicated Affiliate Partners, which oversee approximately 100 regional programs across the nation; our expert jurors at both the regional and national levels; and our generous supporters. And of course, none of our programs would exist without the leadership of our Board of Directors and the yearlong efforts of our exceptional staff. Despite the incredible challenges posed by the pandemic, the Awards community has been resilient. We are grateful to these extraordinary individuals and institutions for all they do to support our shared mission.

Awards with Scholarships

Political commentary and civic engagement. Climate change. Hope and loss. Teens have a lot to say about life and the world around them. Every year, the Alliance partners with dedicated individuals, foundations, and corporations to offer scholarship opportunities to teen artists and writers whose creative work engages deeply in many of the pressing issues of our time and those facing their generation.

Gold and Silver Medal Awards

Students in grades 7-12 may submit works in seventeen art categories. This year, regional programs selected nearly 11,000 art submissions for Gold Keys, and these works were then adjudicated at the national level by artists, gallerists, curators, and educators. Gold and Silver Medals were awarded to works of art that demonstrated originality, technical skill, and emergence of a personal vision.
